It Was A Bad Trip To New York City For 17 PHS Students

A Princeton High School trip to the South Street Seaport and a play has resulted in the suspension of 17 students. Three were given 15-day suspensions for suspected drug use and the rest were suspended for misconduct including drinking, smoking on the bus, leaving the group and rowdiness in the theatre.

Three students left the theatre and went into a subway station. There, two were ticketed by Metropolitan Transportation Authority police for allegedly illegally entering the station and for smoking.

The three students suspended for suspected drug use first admitted that they had used cocaine and then retracted their admission. The case has been turned over to Princeton Borough Police for investigation.

The suspensions, which went into effect April 26, two days after the incidents occurred, will not be placed on the students' permanent records.

On April 24, 39 members of Henry Allegretti's English class, mostly juniors and seniors, boarded a hus to New York to see the play, Tracers. Chaperones were Mr. Allegretti and another teacher, Joan Goodman, plus an aide.

The students, a cross-section of the high school student population, began misbehaving on their way into New York, paving the way for a series of incidents that, says School Superintendent Paul Houston, "gives the School a bad name and puts into jeopardy trips for other students."

School officials are looking into possible disciplinary action against the chaperones. "We're investigating whether we

Report by Borough Tax Study Commission Stresses Burden on Moderate Income Families

Princeton Borough's Tax Study Commission has prepared a preliminary report that will be presented to Mayor and Council at the Thursday meeting of Borough Council, scheduled for 8 p.m. The commission is chaired by Councilman Marvin Reed.

The goal of the report is to identify how Borough officials might best approach their own budget and municipal tax planning as well as provide input to regional, county, state and federal study groups currently researching possible tax reform.

The report cites rapidly escalating sale prices on Borough real estate, a decline in rateables because of the AT&T divestiture, and the fact that few new properties are coming onto the tax rolls, as forces that have combined to create a high property tax burden for Borough property owners.

The single-spaced 14-page document looks at this burden, particularly as it affects those who are retired or on moderate incomes. It states that if they are to continue living in this town, alternatives must be found to stablize tax bills and help those on moderate incomes pay them.

A review of recent sales indicates that Borough properties are generally selling for 20 to 30 percent more than their assessed values. Homes in certain sections and office buildings and stores in the central business district are being sold at prices considerably above that.

For example, In October 1984, a house on Chestnut Street assessed at $60,000 sold for $117,500; a Hamilton Avenue home assessed at $95,300 sold for $177,500; and a house on

Affordable Housing Sites Sought On Witherspoon and John Streets

Princeton Borough is actively seeking sites on Witherspoon and John Streets for the construction of affordable housing. Negotiations for the purchase of the Maclean Street parking lot are underway, and housing may also be built on the playground at John and Lytle Streets. The Borough has already selected the John Street basketball court as a site.

About 60 units could be constructed at these locations. They would when by The Homeownership Group that provides home ownership for low and moderate income families via a lease/purchase arrangement. The plan relies on a short-term, tax-exempt low-interest bond to finance construction.

Borough Councilman John Huntoon, newly appointed head of the Borough's Affordable Housing Committee, said the Borough is now on a fast track with the problem of locating sites. He said the second assessment of the Maclean Street lot has already been done. "We're still negotiating with the owner (the Ivy Corporation), but I feel optimistic about coming to terms on purchase," he said

Another hurdle to be overcome is the re-siting of the John Street Playground. Princeton University's Stanworth Apartments abut the John Witherspoon neighborhood. The University has expressed a willingness to consider moving the facility onto an undeveloped part of the Stanworth site on John Street across from the present playground.

University Vice President Eugene McPartland said that this has been mentioned as a possibility but never pinned down. "It would seem to me to be doable."

These 60 low and moderate income units would be part of the 125 the Borough hopes to build. In addition, the Borough hopes to develop about 25 affordable housing units through revision of zoning laws and another 50 through preservation of existing dwellings.

A more detailed version of the Borough's plan for 200 units of affordable housing will be presented to Judge Eugene Serpentelli in late June or early July. Judge Serpentelli will then be requested, on the basis of the abrough s Mt. Laurel obligation from 1469 units to 200.

Mr. Huntoon stated that he has reason to believe that the judge would be sympathetic "if we could get something to him."

Food Winkel Target Of Two Holdup Men

Two gunmen terrorized the owner and an employee of The Food Winkel, 14 Chambers Street, Friday afternoon, and escaped with approximately $350 from the cash register. An attempt to force the employee to cash a $3,000 check at the Princeton Bank and Trust failed.

An investigation by Borough police, led by Detectives Gerald Patterson and William Nathan and Sgt. Peter Hanley, is continuing.

Two suspects were picked up by police on Maclean Street shortly after the burglary, but were later released after police were satisfied they were not involved.

Police are looking for two black males, last seen in a blue car. Both are believed to be 25 to 30 years old. One or both may have been wearing stocking masks.

He was issued a complaint summons and released, pending his appearance in Borough court June 19.

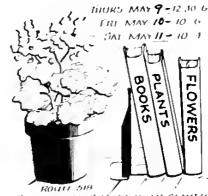

The incident began when a employee of the Princeton Packet told police that someone had hurled an object at his van while he was driving on University Place near the U-Store

There was no damage to the van but the driver reported the incident and led Sgt. William Clark to the place where he had last seen the suspect on University Place He told the officer he had seen a white male run into the campus. A search failed to uncover the suspect

While the investigation was in progress, a university student appeared and told police he had just left nearby Dickinson Street where he had been drinking with another student he knew only as "Fred." Fred was highly intoxicated, he said, and might be the suspect they were looking for His descripthe driver

Police contacted university security in Stanhope Hall where the student and driver were taken. There, they both picked out the suspect's picture from a school yearbook

WILSON HOME NAMED

To Historic Register, Prospect, once the home of Princeton University presidents and now a social center for faculty, administration and staff, has been designated a national historic landmark

The designation by the National Historic Trust in the U.S. Department of the Interior was evidently made on the basis of Prospect having served as Woodrow Wilson's home while he was president was one of II properties, his cluding four Presidential homes, given landmark status in a recent announcement from Washington. The designation recognizes the historical importance of the property and entitles the imiversity to technical and preservation advice from the Department of the Interior

According to Eugene McPartland, vice president for facilities, Nassau Hall, Henry House and MacLean House on the front campus already enjoy landmark status, and three other Princeton University build ings have been suggested in the past year. The three are Alexander Hall, Stanhope Hall and Chancellor Green Hall, a former site of the university liluary, now the Student

United Way Seeks Offices

United The Princeton Area Communities and the Princeton Area Council of Community Services are seeking new office space. Both organizations must vacate their present offices by June, 1986.

The United Way and the Council, now located in the Valley Road Building, lease their offices from the Princeton Regional School System The space can no longer accommodate the expanding needs of the two service community organizations

Because both organizations are non-profit and depend on public donations for their survival, they are looking for low-cost or donated space

They require approximately 2,200 - 3,000 square feet of space somewhere in Princeton or West Windsor. The new offices must include room for anticipated additional staff and volunteer growth as well as sufficient storage and meeting areas Parking for volunteers and staff and visibility to the public are also a necessity.

Anyone who knows of available office space is asked to call Joe Horsley, executive director of the United Way, at 924-5882

Col. Morgan built a stone farmhouse on the crest of the hill with a commanding view to the east and called it "Prospect." The estate became famous in Revolutionary times as "Prospect near Princeton" The Continental Congress held a number of its sessions there in 1783 before establishing itself in Nassau

Still later, John Potter, a wealthy merchant from South

Carolina, acquired the stone farmhouse and replaced it with the present mansion, which was designed by John Notman in the Florentine style. In 1879, Alexander and Robert L Stuart, wealthy Scottish-American merchants and Preshyterian-minded philanthropists, hought Prospect and presented it to the College for use as the residence of President Mc-Cosh and his successors

After the official residence of university presidents was changed to the Walter Lowrie House on Stockton Street in 1968, Prospect was converted for the social use of the faculty and administration. The president continues to use the grounds for official receptions at the opening of the University in September and at Commencement rooms in the Elm Club were entered Sunday afternoon between 3 and 4:30.

From one the thiel stole $30 from a wallet left in a top desk drawer and $50 from a second wallet left in plain view on top of the desk. Twenty dollars was taken from a cloth purse lying on a heater in the other room.

In both entries, police said, articles of value, including jewlery, left lying about were untouched. Ptl. Chris Boutote investigated both thefts.

There was an apparent at-Chambers Street apartificiahuilding between early Friday. evening and 9 the next morning

OPEN UP, DARN YOU: As George Johnson (center) tries to pry open the hood of a car on fire Monday morning at Mercer Street near Nassau, a fireman directs a hose on the burning engine compartment. Johnson was finally able to pry the hood open and 12 firemen, who arrived in two trucks, put out the blaze that at times emitted clouds of smoke. But not before extensive damage was done to the engine. The forlorn owner, Joseph Sweat of Trenton, reported that he had had a new engine installed only two days previously. Police described the 1972 Plymouth as probably a total loss. Cause of the fire is unknown. Looking on, with hat, is Tom Johnson. Both he and his brother George are members of the Princeton Fire Department and were passing by when the fire erupted.

Mi Bush arrived Monday morning at the Mercer County Airport and went immediately to a $1,000 a plate breakfast at the Hyalf Regency on Route 1 and Alexander Road Scated next to Gov. Kean, he urged the group of about 160 party faithful to work for the reelection of the Republican governor and control of the state assembly "If you can get control of this legislature, it sets a major example for the rest of the country, "Mr. Bush exhorted

The breakfast raised $130,000 for Assembly campaigns, surpassing its $100,000 goal, according to the finance director for the 1985 GOP campaign committee

Lunch at Liposome, After the breakfast, the Vice President motored up Route One to the Forrestal Center for a prearranged tour of Liposome Company, a biomedical research and development concern. The company is doing pioneering research in the field of microscopic, manmade spheres capable of carrying drugs, enzymes or other substances into the body's cell structure.

The company was founded in 1981 with private venture Acapital, Dr. Mark J. Ostrowas both president and sole employee in the beginning. It has since grown to 60 employees, 40 of them researchers, and has raised more than $15 million in venture capital

Back at the Hyatt, Mr Bush met with heads of three other area research firms, all backed with venture capital, before joining some 300 executives from small high tech companies from around New Jersey for lunch The lunch was arranged by Princeton resident James R Swartz, managing partner of the Princeton venture capital firm, Accel Partners, who is on the board of the National Venture Capital Association

If our nation is to keep its leadership in technology and economic growth, government must step out of the way," the Vice President told the group at lunch He supported President Reagan's program of tax incentives and a reduced federal deficit through cutting spending, not raising taxes

NEXT MEETING MAY 14 For Hopewell Zoning Board. The battle lines are drawn, the opponents are well known to each other, and next Tuesday evening, May 14, another round will begin in a Hopewell Township zoning battle.

The combatants are the S.T. Peterson Co., which wants to build an office complex on land it owns at the intersection of Elm Ridge and Carter roads, and residents of the area, who have organized to fight the proposal.

S.T. Peterson needs a variance because it seeks to build on 85 acres instead of the 100 required by the township's ordinance. It's all been heard before, and the firm's application was denied once, but a rehearing was ordered by Superior Court Judge Paul G. Levy, because some of the zoning board members at that time had conflicts of interest.

The company has made some modifications in its plans since the last hearing, and still others since it met with residents last November. But the neighborhood group

Municipal Bond Trusts

Send for our two new FREE publications on tax-free Municipal Bond Trusts today!

Municipal Bonds provide the henefit of tax-free income and offer a known return on your investment. But, even among investment grade tax-free municipal bonds, the choice of yield and relative degree of risk is quite broad. Selecting from among the thousands of investment grade bond offerings is often a difficult task for the individual investor.

That's why PaineWehber recommends an investment in one of our Municipal Bond Trusts Our MBT's offer all the advantages of Municipal Bonds, like current high tax-free income with the added benefit of huilt-in professional selection and diversification. And with PaineWebber MBT's, you have a choice of monthly or semi-annual checks sent to you automatically.

To give you a better understanding of MBT's, we're offering free, two informative booklets: "Q's and A's about Municipal Bond Trusts," and "Q's and A's about Insured Municipal Bond Trusts." To get them free, call (609) 924-6200 or mail the coupon. These new publications have been written to answer the most frequently asked questions about PaineWebber's Municipal Bond Trusts. They explain such features as stability, diversification, predictability of income, band selection and reinvestment. They define terms you should know about, such as: public offering price, net annual income and estimated current return. You'll also get a list of those states where we sponsor trusts where the interest income is free from state and local taxes, as well as federal

Once you better understand MBT's, talk to a PaineWebber Investment Executive. They're trained to help you select the MBT that meets your individual needs and investment strategy

When you understand the many benefits of our MBT's we think you'll be saying. "Thank you, PaineWebber."

Topics of the Town | Township Police Will No Longer Keep Spare Keys for Residents

The Princeton Township police department is getting out of the business of keeping spare keys to resident homes and burglar alarms.

In a practice that Chief Anthony Pinelli estimates was started some 40 years ago, Township police would hold house keys supplied by residents for safe keeping in case of a lost key emergency. The police department was always available and open 24 hours a day. Police held the keys to more than 600 homes.

However the practice has gotten out of hand, says Chief Pinelli and recent events have convinced him to end it. We're one of the few police departments to do it," he said.

Although he declined to go into specifics, Chief Pinelli commented that it was a culmination of a number of unfortunate things, one recently.

"We were getting involved in domestic disputes by having the keys. We're getting caught in the middle ... I could foresee a problem or a lawsuit."

"You couldn't believe some of the situations we got into; let's just say some were unfortunate and let it go at that," concluded Chief Pinelli.

All key owners have been sent a letter to come in and pick up their keys by June 1. Any keys not picked up by that date will be destroyed. Chief Pinelli said

Dairy Queen to Go?

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is a letter I have sent to George Comfort and Sans, Inc., awners of the Princeton Shopping Center: One of our local papers recently carried a story which suggests that your organization, which owns the Princeton Shopping Center, does not wish to see the Dairy Queen continue in its present location. I find this distressing.

The Dairy Queen has been well run throughout its long life. Further, it provides, and, I hope, will continue to provide, a useful service to both the young and not so young of this community. Its prices are more than competitive with the similar few very establishments which exist in Princeton.

Precisely what image you are trying to establish for your property I don't know, but I sincerely hope that the Shopping Center and Princeton have not become so "chi-chi" that a thoroughly American enterprise such as the Dairy Queen can no longer be tolerated.

Can You Imagine the Mess...?

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In yesterday's Times, April 30, the headlines read "Over t,200 rally against bottle bill." In not too many years, New Jersey will be inundated with trash ... not only from our trash but from the adjoining states that have used our land fills.

Above is a picture of trash collected from a trip my husband and I took around our block one Saturday morning. Multiply this by X number of blocks in our town and then in our state. Can you imagine the mess we will be in within a few years?

The bottle bill has proved without a doubt to be effective and beneficial to the states that have voted it in. More states are leaning towerds it every day. When is New Jersey going to wake up? We need it ... I hope Assemblyman Tom Foy of Burlington will be proved wrong when he said, "The bottle bill will not pass the Assembly.

I urge each person reading this letter to work towards the passing of this bill. Please take time to write today to your Assemblyman and let him know you care and want the bill

While it is not a good idea to put out bird food in summer, you can attract birds by using certain landscaping techniques and by planting some lavorite foods Trees like Autumn Olive, Flower ing Dogwood and Eastern Red Cedar can provide natural food while beautifying your property With a little pre-planning you can arrange to provide food all year round Some plants provide food in fall, some in summer and some in winter. Variety is important in order to attract the largest number of species. If you like Cardinals, Sparrows and Finches, you might try planting a small area with grasses like buckwheat, millet and sunflower Warblers will gorge themselves on bayberries and Robins wil feast on dogwood berries

FROM STARTER HOME TO EXECUTIVE MANSIONS FIRESTONE WILL FIND YOUR SPECIAL HOUSE!

SPRINGTIME AT MARQUAND PARK. Close to the Governor's mansion yet only a short walk to town, this attractive Cape Cod is set on a lovely lot in one of Princeton's most desirable areas. The spacious living room features built-in shelves and a fireplace. There is also a dramatic stone fireplace in the first floor family room. Four bedrooms, central air conditioning, and full basement. You've been driving by and admiring this Lover's Lane home for years, why not be the proud new owner? By appointment,

SET ON A LOVELY LOT overlooking the Hun School's grassy mall and close to Stony Brooks' woodland paths, this spacious Colonial Split offers your family so much to enjoy! You'll love the special attractiveness of the Edgerstoune neighborhood: low traffic, lots of trees, charming curving roads, yet town is only minutes away by bike path or car. The home is special too. It was custom built with such wonderful features as plaster walls, porch, an oversized garage and lots of storage space. A flexible floor plan with expansion potential and a great price make this four bedroom home the perfect choice! Let us tell you more.

A DESIRARLE PRINCETON LIFESTYLE ... can be yours in this sunny multilevel with beautiful gardens, pool and decks. Just around the corner from Herrontown Woods and a short bicycle ride to town. Inside you'll find a nicely carpeted living room and dining room with bow windows and lots of light as well as a modern convenient kitchen with name quality appliances. Down a few steps are a family room with recessed lighting and a den with full bath nearby Upstairs are four bedrooms including a master suite and two full baths. Sit back on the deck this summer and enjoy this fine Princeton lifestyle with your own 25 x 50  $\,$ inground pool and park.

THE PRINCETON COLLECTION in nearby Plainsboro is the setting for a very special 5 bedroom Colonial with many upgraded features: oversized lot, no-wax floor in ultra-modern kitchen, extra large master bedroom with full bath, walkin-closets and sitting area. More!

SPRINGTIME ON PROSPECT AVENUE. Spacious and airy rooms highlight this elegant 3 plus bedroom Colonial in Princedton's Riverside, only a short stroll from Carnegie Lake sailing and crew. The classic center design features a front to back living room with fireplace and French doors leading to the terrace overlooking a professionally landscaped garden. Lovely pine-panelled den with bay window, new central air conditioning, and an idyllic private setting close to transportation or a bike ride to town. Immaculate condition!

NEAR WESTMINSTER CHOIR COLLEGE. This kind of opportunity doesn't come along too often. A superb Princeton Borough location close to Nassau Street and backing up on a small park. The house itself has so much potential, a dramatic cathedral ceilinged living room with fireplace, three bedrooms, and a separate entrance for the lower level recreation room or mother-in-law apartment. If you like the convenience of condos but still want a yard and privacy or are looking for a good investment property, this is the house!

CAREFREE CONDOMINIUM LIVING and the wonderful Princeton location have already made Bayard Court almost completely sold out. The townhouses are no longer available, but the builder has two very special individual residences for your consideration. Set apart from the townhouses, these two condominiums offer superb design combined with a more private setting. Cathedral ceilings, skylights, quality construction plus a master bedroom on the ground floor. Ask us when your dream home can be ready for you. By appointment only

Foreign investment in Princeton commercial and residential properties is proceeding apace. The most recent example is the European construction industry, which seems to have set its sights on Lewis C. Bowers and Sons. Inc., Princeton's oldest and largest construction firm.

Raymond A Bowers, company chairman, reports that over the past six to eight months, the firm has been approached by numerous European construction firms. He did not specify the number, nor the terms of the offers The companies range from those based in Finland all the way to the Italian and Iberian peninsulas.

The offers have been for joint-venture operation or outright acquisition of one or more of the subsidiary com- til recently this was not the panies. European chief executives of interested construction firms told us that they viewed Princeton as a fine place in which to start a European beach-head in the U.S.

The fact that Bowers had sales of $80 million in 1983, up 100 percent from two years earlier, and is listed 34th in the top 100 businesses in the Business Journal of New Jersey may have played a part in attracting foreign construction company offers. Today the firm has a backlog amounting to some $40-$50 billion, Mr. Sidon reports.

Major projects presently under way, including the $45 million complex for Bankers Trust in Jersey City to be known as Harborside, may have played a part in attracting foreign construction company offers. Another major project for which Bowers is doing the development, design and construction is a t80,000-square-foot executive conference center for Fairleigh Dickinson University in Madison, N.J.

In writing The Importance of Being Eornest, Oscar Wilde seems to have set himself the task of relentlessly - if playfully - refuting his own maxim. Algernon is definitely not Earnest, of course; while Jack is only as a result of such wild and last-minute machinations as to make one wonder how long he is to reliably remain so. Everyone concerned strives gallantly to be earnest with no great success, and, in the end, it does not really seem to matter: each fellow gets his lady; each lady forgives him all deceptions; and each couple finds itself equipped with both money and relations enough to settle right into the supremely unearnest upper class (from

Wilde is a slippery one, who often hides his dark side behind the same clever lines that most blatantly reveal it. This dark side, however, seems to me to be a good candidate for what has kept The Importance of Being Earnest on stage for 100 years. As anyone who listens closely to Algernon has an opportunity to understand, the English class system, for those trapped within it, is not a laughing matter Certainly Wilde's audiences are meant to laugh, both with Algernon, and at him, but if his cleverness, and Jack's earnestness, were slightly tinged with the deeper sort of ennur, perhaps we might, at times, laugh more nervously than comfortably, and thus find ourselves drawn into the drawing room, rather than banished from it, and only entertained

If you were raised on three-ring spectacles boy have we got a surprise for you.

The Big Apple Circus—one ring, big top tent and audience barely 35 feet from ringside.

This is circus so intimate and theatrical it won the Obie Award for theater. It is circus so artful and magical it's known to millions as the only circus good enough to play Lincoln Center.

Leaping in from Poland are the Wozniak Troupe on teeterboard. Waddling in from Switzerland are Adolph and Taxiextraordinaire presented by Roby Gasser.

Of course there's more... Dolly Jacobs on Roman Rings, Ben Williams and Elephant Anna May, the Carillo Brothers on High Wire, Katja Schumann's Horses at Liberty, soaring in from France, Marie Pierre Benac on Russian Barre, the lovable histrionics of The Big Apple Circus Clowns, debonaire ringmaster Paul Binder and of course, more..

So, no matter where you're coming from or how, you really ought to juggle your schedule and get in on the singular pleasures of our one ring show. If you haven't been to The Big Apple Čircus, you haven't been to the circus.

KAUFFMAN COMEDY At Peddie. The Peddie School Drama Club will present as its spring drama production, The Mon who Came to Dinner on May 16, 17, and 18 at 8 p m in Geiger-Reeves Hall

The Mon Who Come to Dinner was written by George S Kauffman and Moss Hart When the play originally opened on Broadway it starred Monty Wooley in the role of Sheridan Whiteside

Whiteside, played by Scott King, is a fictitious showbusiness character, who upon hreaking his hip on the porch of the prominent Stanley family, proceeds to turn the household into complete turmoil. Along with his friends, played by Beth Posner, Mark Andrew, Mark Kirby and Chris Webber, he manages to cause total chaos in an otherwise ordinary home.

Whiteside's secretary, played by Sue Clayton, falls in love with a local reporter, played by Jon Ellinghaus, adding a touch of romance to the

FLOWERS IN BLOOM

At Carkhuff's. Spring flowers are in full bloom at Carkhuff's Garden Sphere on Route 1 in South Brunswick, where a 3000-square-foot expansion is in progress. From the looks of business, the additional space, which will include a new patio shop ready just in time for the Christmas season, more parking facilities, and more nurseries, will provide faithful Carkhuff customers with still greater selections.

The garden eneter, wellknown to Princeton horticulturists and seasoned gardeners, is a family affair owned hy Robert and Ann Carkhuff, their son Don, and his wife Lorie. The senior Carkhuffs' daughter, Judy Repair, also manages a good deal of the business, which has sold more plants, shrubs, and flowering bushes already this year than it did all of last season. Lorie Carkhuff attrihutes their increased sales only partially to the warm spring weather.

"It seems to us that people just seem happier this year When things are going better, everyone just wants to come and fill up their garden with flowers and beautiful plants. It more flowering plants this season and last year as well. I feel good about that," says the attractive Mrs. Carkhuff.

HANGING BASKETS of colorful flowering plants are in abundance at Carkhuff's Patio and Garden Center, where all garden tools and several spring bushes are on sale. Perennials are selling as fast as the Carkhuff family can stock them, so shop early!

It appears that the division of in South Brunswick and at their other shop in Greenbrook The response to perennials this spring at Carkhuff's has been overwhelming.

'We have already re-ordered several different kinds of perennials because we are selling them as fast as they come in. People will call up on the is interesting that we have sold phone to see if their favorite fewer vegetables and so many plant has arrived and then drive right over to pick it up before it goes. It is amazing Our growers are almost out of several varieties of perennials which people recognize to be a better value for their money,' explains Don Gorsuch.

The more unusual perennials such as bleeding hearts, astiha, hosta funkia, and poppies will soon be difficult to find so it behooves those who are planning a perennials garden to stock up this week

Save on Garden Tools, The short drive to Carkhuff's will surely save the shopper's garden budget, because the nursery has reduced all of its garden tools by 20 percent for the rest of the season. Even the garden shop has had a face lift. Newly renovated, it nicely displays tools, a fine collection of Ortho books, seeds of all kinds, bird feeders, and an excellent assortment Wolmanized pressure-treated planters which will look stunning on the patio or terrace this summer and can be brought inside in the fall so that some flowers will bloom all winter! Anyone who knows what happens to wooden planters after a while will be pleased with the projected long life of these contamers. Landscape fabric is available here

The garden patio and shop has an interesting display of cast concrete designs to adorn he garden once the more dif ficult work has been completed A statue of St. Francis might make a nice gift or perhaps a rabbit or a chick of stone

Another item which will soon be in short supply is grass seed, bought only once a year troin wholesalers. The blue grasses are especially scarce, so it may be wise to stock up on boxes of Scott seed, because it will not be available again until the fall, according to the Carkbufts Roses are always in great demand The garden shop suggests buying early because the packaged ones have already sold out Potted Jackson and Perkins roses will be in bloom in only three weeks at $10.99 A host of perennials from which to choose include phlox, sweet william, marguerita daisies, oriental poppies, coral bells, hens 'n' chicks, and arabis all four for $10 or $2 99 each

Colorful Annuals. Flats of lahor in the Carkhuff family is colorful annuals fill the nursery well-organized, with each these days large and bushy member doing a variety of johs geraniums in three colors are sold 10 for $25 Gorgeous Martha Washington geraniums are $7.99 each, while hanging haskets full of hright red impatiens hegin at $14,99. The choices of annuals, which bring so much variety to one's garden, are endless. Flats of healthy ground covers await gardener as well. Pachysandra and English ivy are priced at $15.99 per flat.

> While we are still enjoying the glories of Princeton's azaleas, think about adding a few more for next year, while Carkhuff's continues its mix-and-match sale. Several shades of azaleas, four kinds of junipers, and Japanese holly are on sale for 3 for $13.99 or 10 for $45 — a value hard to beat.

LOSE WEIGHT SENSIBLY

At the Diet Center. The nagging problem of being overweight - one of America's top health hazards - has been solved for Princeton residents who are willing to adhere to the austere, but sensible, weightloss program of the Diet Center of Princeton. Located in the Princeton Shopping Center, the Diet Center, a national concern with its training headquarters in Rexburg, Idaho, has provided amazing results for its clients over the past three and a half years.

Much more than a standard weight-loss center, the Diet Center educates its dieters about the value of good nutrition, and counsels them daily, if desired, about their attitudes toward what and how they eat. RETURN OF REALISM Reflection of Times? If it is true that art reflects its times. then perhaps the current trend to political conservatism accounts for the rising fortunes of the Realist School of painting For most of the 20th century these artists have found themselves relegated to the backwaters of the art world, with the strong tide of abstractionism moving against them

But as the old saying goes, "Everything that goes around, comes around "The closets of academia, to which many artists who preferred to work along representational lines had been confined, have recently been swioging open

Three current exhibitions show the wide variety that even so-called 'realistic' interpretations can display

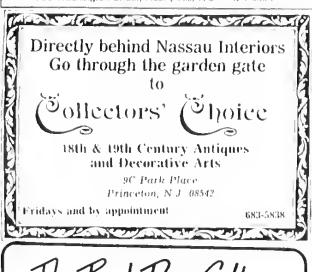

"The New American Scene," The most comprehensive exhibition is at The Squibb Gallery The 16 artists here are all tilling the realist field, but oone reaps the same harvest. Also, although some of the arfists whose works are on view achieve startling effects of realism, all employ more painterly methods than the photo-realists of recent memory

John Gordon's three large oils are engaging evocations of small-town America — simple and yet richly textured compositions Unpretentious houses, backyards and garages, thickly planted gardens and flowering hedgerows crowd these "suburbia-scapes"

Pastels are also interpreted in a variety of styles. G. Daniel Massad's finely wrought strokes and clear, clean colors give his modestly-scaled still hies the quality of oils - a luscious red pepper begs to be plucked from the paper

William Clutz, working on a much larger scale, uses his pastels in a rougher fashion, more like children's crayon drawings. His technique is broad, but his use of large blocks of rainbow color, although they add a faintly abstract, geometric dimension to the works, is again, highly realistic.

Joellyn Duesberry, "Pugsley Hill Cornfields," manages to evoke late summer's water-hungry farmland

Both high blood pressure and colon cancer are among the many chronic diseases that develop slowly throughout life. The chances of getting these diseases are increased when you have a habit such as eigarette smoking, a diet high in fats or salt, not exercising or not controlling stress. Improving these habits can help reduce the risks of developing chronic disease

Certain people are more likely to develop high blood pressure highly specialized work in- to do so in the future. and colon cancer especially if a close family member had either volving "clean rooms. of these diseases themselves. Blood pressure usually goes up with age, and in men, overweight individuals, and women who are pregnant or taking birth control pills. Colon cancer is more common in people who are over forty years old, who have diets high in fats and low in fiber, or who have other types of digestive problems. The health screening program being offered by the Princeton Regional Health Department includes a blood pressure check and a take-home test that may help detect col-

Blood pressure testing is a simple way to determine whether the heart may be working too hard. If blood pressure is too high and remains high, it can lead to more serious problems such as heart or kidney disease. Treatment for high blood pressure (Hypertension) can range from a simple diet and exercise program, to daily use of drugs. Adults of all ages should have their blood pressure checked at least once a year, and may do so by visiting the May 11 health screening program at Princeton's United Jersey Bank on Nassau Street, between the hours of 10 and noon.

The Princeton Regional Health Department will also be distributing Guaic kits, a simple take-home test which detects hidden blood in the stool. This can indicate an internal problem such as colon cancer. People attending the health screening program will be taught how to use the kit and will be given one to Colon cancer and hypertension, like other chronic diseases, do not have a definite cause nor a definite cure. The sooner these diseases are found, the more successfully they are treated. And the more you do to improve your health habits, the less likely it is that you will suffer from these diseases in the first place. That is why adopting good health practices is as important as getting regular check-ups in order to protect your health.

For more information about what you can do to protect your health, call the Princeton Regional Health Department at 924-3407.

Chance of Tigers Facing Playoff for EIBL Title Increase; Heavyweight, Lightweight Crews in Sprints This Weekend

Princeton's haseball team was physically idle last weekend, but it was mentally on alert, hoping for the word that Harvard had lost one of its games at Cornell or at Army. This result would have given the Tigers their first outright EIBL title since 1953 and would have propelled them into the Northeast Regional Playoff scheduled later this month. But, alas, no such happy word came through.

The two-time defending champions from Cambridge roared through double-headers at Ithaca and West Point with as little trouble as had Princeton one week earlier. Harvard defeated Cornell, 6-4 and 18-1. then downed Army, 5-0 and 13-1. The climax of waiting comes this weekend when the Cantabs travel to Hanover for another twin bill, this time who witnessed the visits of both Harvard and Dartmouth to Clarke Field last month cannot be too sanguine about the outcome on Saturday.

Playoffs are nothing new to Harvard The Crimson won a 1972 playoff from Cornell on Clarke Field, 3-2, scoring a pair of ninth-inning runs to do so. 10-4 in the EIBL, the Tigers having dropped a doubleheader at Cambridge along the way. Amazingly, a baseball player once made a hit for 2 different big league teams on the same day!

On Aug 4, 1982, Joel Youngblood played for the New York Mets in an afternoon game in Chicago ... When the game was over, he was traded to Montreal ... He immediately flew to Philadelphia, where Montreal was playing that night and he got into the lineup . . He singled in each game — and became the first player ever to get a hit for 2 different major league teams in one day.

The strangest big-time auto race ever held was the Indianapolis 500 of 1915 ... The winner of that race, Ralph DePalma, won by pushing his car, by hand, across the finish line! ... De Palma was leading the field when his car broke down a few yards from the finish ... He got out and pushed it the rest of the way - and won the Indy-500! +++

Inasmuch as Dartmouth had defeated Princeton a year ago and given that the Tigers finished 1984 with a record of 2-11, this season cannot be regarded as a complete washout. The overall record is 6-7, with a Wednesday game at Delaware and a Saturday contest against Adelphi on Finney Field remaining.

PHS STUNS HAMILTON

On Rumer Two-Hitter, PHS was scheduled to play fifthseeded Ewing in the first round. of the Mercer County tournament this week, but Little Tiger baseball coach Ed Beachani said first he wanted to bask in his team's 4-3 victory over No. 1 Hamilton

Who could blame mm" It was Princeton's most impressive performance on the diamond so far this season. Hamilton, with a fine 13-2 record, had just been named the area's No. 1 team. (Succeeding Council Rock) and was ranked 19th in the state. Struggling PHS, with only three wins, figured to be no more than a routine workout for the PHS stung the Hornets on the intching of Rumer and the Intting of Mike Petrone, whose three hits led the 13 collected by the Little Tigers.

"It was a great win," said-Beacham "This could turn us around and make a half-way decent season for us. The kids teel great, they're flying high-We've been out of so many ballgames, it's a good (celling)

In upcoming games, PHS will play Ewing this Wednesday afternoon for the secondday in a row, and then entertain Eawrence Thursday at 3, 45 for its fourth game in four days. "I don't know where I am going to M all the pitchers." sighed Beacham. He had tried to get the first meeting with Ewing to count both as a first round game in the Mercer County Tournament (which it is) and also as a regular-season game. eliminating Wednesday's contest. Both school athletic directors agreed, but Ewing coach Andy Greener said "no" Should PHS defeat Ewing this week, it will assume the number five seeding of Ewing and play fourth-seeded Notre Dame on Saturday

Undefeated Pennington School is seeded first in the tournament, followed by Hamilton, West Windsor and Notre Dame.

Nine SO's for Rumer, Rumer fanned nine Hamilton batters in going the distance Monday against the visiting Hornets but one was a two-run homer by Chuck Sheppard in the third

Hamilton added another in the same inning, when Brant Savander tripled and came home on an errant relay to give PHS a 3-0 lead.

PHS got two back in the same inning when Petrone and Bill Byrne each singled home runs and the home team tied it in the fifth when John Blankstein's sacrifice fly plated Gavin Hulsman

In the bottom of the seventh, PHS loaded the bases with no outs on consecutive singles by Byrne, Hulsman and Petrone. Rumer, up next, grounded into a forced play, Hamilton getting the runner at home. Blankstein did the same. With two outs. first haseman Jim Opperman became an instant hero when he singled up the middle for the winning run

The win was Rumer's second without a loss.

Petrone Leading Hitter, Mike Petrone, the PHS third haseman and co-captain of the team, has proven to be the toughest out in Mercer County.
